Auto Project Archiving

digiWEST Auto Project Archiving is a companywide project archiving and management solution, a distributed service-oriented (SOA) backend solution to effectively gather project files spread throughout multiple offices around town, the nation or around the globe. Auto Project Archiving includes routines for file transfer, smart scheduling and prioritization, all with attention to bandwidth minimization, data recovery and fail recovery.

Designed to work independent of other systems, once you close a project, auto archiving will search throughout your entire system, combining ALL data related to that project including multiple versions of documents. You then can choose to save them onto a specific archiving location or automatically burn the projects to BluRay or DVD with corresponding project labeling included!
